

CORPORATE BIOGRAPHY

Dr. Elanna Yalow

President and Chief Operating Officer

Dr. Yalow has been President and Chief Operating Officer of Knowledge Learning Corporation (KLC) since January 1996. In this capacity, she is responsible for supervising operations and several support functions including human resources, marketing, education and training and corporate services.

Dr. Yalow joined KLC in 1989 to initiate development of KLC's employer-sponsored services division. Her educational degrees include a Ph.D. in educational psychology from Stanford University School of Education in 1980 with an emphasis on the design and evaluation of educational programs for children and an M.B.A. from Stanford University's Graduate School of Business in 1989.

With her background in educational research and development, Dr. Yalow contributed to numerous statewide and national curriculum development and assessment projects. She has written extensively on matters related to the education of young children. Dr. Yalow is the mother of two boys, and the daughter of Dr. Rosalyn Yalow, 1977 Nobel Laureate for Physiology and Medicine.
